

Save the Date:* Thursday, September 29, 2005 4:00pm – 6:30pm

CPS administrators and Math teachers: You're invited to a CPS-UIC Networking Event at the University of Illinois at Chicago East Campus

Don't miss:

UIC Professor Danny Martin speaking on his book
Mathematics Success and Failure Among African American Youth: The Roles of Sociohistorical Context, Community Forces, School Influence, and Individual Agents

Free raffles for copies of this book

Learning about Professional Development opportunities at UIC

- Degree and Non-degree Programs
- Free Tuition Waivers
- Meetings for Mentors
- Algebra Symposia

Sharing innovation stories with your peers

Dinner, free parking, and a $50 stipend

CPS – UIC Networking
Thurs, Sept 29 4:00 – 6:30 PM
Room 1043

Engineering Research Facility, 842 W. Taylor St., UIC East Campus
(between the Halsted-Taylor Parking Garage and the SEO Bldg)

Space is limited. Reserve now by e-mailing astrim1@uic.edu with “CPS-UIC” in the subject line by Monday 9/26. Let us know the best way to get you more details.